How It Works...

Each Businessman at an event will have his photo taken and professionally placed on his or her personalised magazine, which is customised to suit the event holder's corporate image and industry. This unique marketing tool is manufactured on site in the patented Qfile mobile print studios. Our experience, creativity and stringent quality standards to which we adhere ensure brand quality and authenticity of these magazine titles.

Benefits of using this marketing tool:

- o Extensive Brand Awareness
- o This exclusive niche item is great for all Corporate events, launches, invites to end year parties, Golf Days, Conferences, sporting events and special occasions.
- o It is unique and innovative in the market place and leaves a long lasting impression on the recipients.
- o The Customised magazines create an immediate impact due to the impressive same day delivery.
- o Provides an avenue for additional ongoing brand awareness for the event holders by including a subscription to the chosen magazine title.
- o The event attendee will be reminded of "the event holder" every month when they receive their subscription which includes a customised fly sheet bearing the event holders logo.
- o Professional photography service and courteous staff
- o National Quality standard magazine production
- o Value for money
- o Complete database of each attendee supplied to client which includes their picture and all pertinent details,
- o A priceless marketing tool!

Our experience is that this form of advertising is extremely well received because it is reaching a specific target market that is certain to not only read their customised magazines but to keep them as a cherished memento leading to ongoing brand awareness.

Qfile Marketing is confident that this type of marketing exposure will prove to be beneficial to all industries and will exceed expectations.
